Missouri Weekly Hay Summary 04/09/2020

The spring roller coaster of temperatures continued this week. Last weekend saw near freezing temperatures which was followed by a record setting warm up, and then expected to end with freezing temperatures and possible frost. Luckily, temperatures are not forecasted low enough to do any serious damage if frost does occur. The warm and dry weather for most of the week really kicked things into growing gear. Field work picked up and farmers stayed busy cutting in anhydrous, planting or spreading dry fertilizer in fields they hadn't gotten to yet. Hay movement has slowed as expected as producers turn to grass. There appears that several farmers will have a decent amount of hay to carry over into the new season. The supply of hay is moderate, demand is light, and prices are steady. The Missouri Department of Agriculture has a hay directory available for both buyers and sellers. To be listed, or to view the directory visit <http://mda.mo.gov/abd/haydirectory/> for listings of hay <http://agebb.missouri.edu/haylst/> (All prices f.o.b. and per ton unless specified and on most recent reported sales.
